

Special delivery for clean-up

29/08/2008 1:00:00 AM

A LARGE portable dehumidification unit used in the recent Brisbane floods arrived at Wodonga Senior Secondary College yesterday to help clean the school's mould problem.

Mycologia Australia director and investigating scientist Heike Neumeister-Kemp returned from Perth yesterday to lead the team of restorers, builders and mould specialists in the full-scale clean-up operation.

"There are only two of these units (dehumidifiers) that exist in Australia and because we wanted to get the school cleaned quickly we needed the large machines which dry fast," Dr Neumeister-Kemp said.
